

- (i) the position is in a highly specialised area, such that the inability to extend the date of retirement, or to contract such person, will be a significant loss of irreplaceable expertise and institutional knowledge, and reduce the Ministry's ability to provide an essential service to the public;
  - (ii) in the case of a permanent employee, the Ministry has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Commission that due to unforeseen circumstances it was unable to plan for suitably skilled and qualified employees to succeed the retiree, and that there are emergency circumstances requiring the employee's retirement to be extended;
  - (iii) in the case of a permanent employee, there are long term Ministry high priority deliverables specified in the employee's job description, which specifically requires the employee to complete.
- (4) In the case of a contracted person who has attained 60 years, the Commission shall take into account that the Ministry is unable to source from its permanent staff an employee with the needed skills and specific qualifications to conduct the high priority work required by the Ministry, or the person has been deemed by the Commission as an exceptional candidate for a contracted position, or that there are emergency circumstances requiring the person to be contracted.

4C. Retirement

4C.1 Age of Retirement

A. For employees who hold the position of Deputy Chief Executive Officer or lower.

- (1) Subject to the exceptions set out below, employees who hold the position of Deputy Chief Executive Officer or lower, shall retire on attaining the age of 60 years.
- (2) Under special, exceptional need, or emergency circumstances, the compulsory date of retirement for employees who hold the position of Deputy Chief Executive Officer or lower may be extended beyond 60 years, or a person who has attained the age of 60 years may be contracted as an employee, with the endorsement of the Minister and the approval of the Commission.
- (3) In considering extending the date of retirement for employees who hold the position of Deputy Chief Executive Officer or lower, who have attained 60 years, the Commission shall take into account the following special, exceptional need, or emergency circumstances:

(1) Subject to the exceptions set out below, employees who hold the post of Chief Executive Officer may be approved by the Commission to be employed beyond the age of 60 years based upon exigency, but shall retire upon attaining the age of 65 years.

(2) Under special, exceptional need, or emergency circumstances, the compulsory date of retirement for employees who hold the position of Chief Executive Officer may be extended beyond 65 years, with the endorsement of the Minister and the approval of the Commission.

(3) In considering extending the date of retirement for employees who hold the position of Chief Executive Officer, who have attained 65 years, the Commission shall take into account the following special, exceptional need, or emergency circumstances:

(i) the Ministry has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Commission that the Chief Executive Officer position is in a highly specialised area, such that the inability to extend the date of retirement will be a significant loss of irreplaceable expertise and institutional knowledge, and reduce the Ministry's ability to provide essential service to the public,

(ii) the Ministry has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Commission that due to unforeseen circumstances it was unable to plan for a suitably skilled and qualified Chief Executive Officer to succeed the retiree, and that there are emergency circumstances requiring the employee's retirement to be extended,

(iii) the Ministry has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Commission that there are long term Ministry high priority deliverables specified in the Chief Executive Officer's job description, which specifically requires the employee to complete.

(iv) The Commission may consider an application from a candidate for a Chief Executive Officer, who has attained 65 years, if after a recruitment process, no suitable candidate was recommended by the interview panel for a Chief Executive Officer position.
